

The Movement for People's Democracy supports Cornel West for President in the 2024 Presidential Election.

Dr Cornel West was the first African-American to ever receive a PhD from Princeton University. There is only one President of the United States, Woodrow Wilson, who has ever held a PhD while in office. Cornel West would be the second.

Cornel West has written thirty books, including Race Matters and Democracy Matters, a New York Times best seller, and has received an American Book Award for Prophetic Thought in Postmodern Times.

Cornel West's platform advocates for the dissolution of NATO, AUKUS and all other military alliances, and promises to return that money spent abroad back home on healthcare, housing and other basic human needs. His platform also seeks to end mass incarceration and stop the militarization of police, as well as promising to end Cop City which is currently being built near Atlanta, Georgia.

Cornel West is running on both the People's Party and Green Party ticket, which will unify the progressive and left vote in the 2024 Presidential Election. Cornel West is more than qualified to hold the office of President of the United States, with both his academic accomplishments and his four decades long history in the movement against racism and for social justice.

Now more than ever, do we need a presidential candidate who can run on a progressive and populist platform outside of the Democratic Party, which has become the graveyard of all social movements.
